TWO HAPPY COUPLES JOINED IN WEDLOCK LAST NIGHT.

Bey, Bruce Griffith Leads Miss Lolo Faris to the Suprial Altar Where the Impressive Ceremonies of the Reformed Church Bind Their Lives Together-Flowers Descend Upon Them-Through Equally Impressive Ceremonies Miss Edessn E. Johnson Becomes Mrs. Mun.

lena Faris were united in the boly hands of wedlock in the presence of about 200 of the friends of both parties, Including a great many of the members of the church.

When the happy couple arrived at the church Shaw's orchestra, directed by Mr. Henry Huttmann, played Wagner's Lohengrin. The couple were preceded to the altar by Mr. Luther Burns, Mr. Silas Brown, Mr. Paul Brown and Mr.

W. A. Stevens of Arkansas City, ushers and the bridesmalds, Miss Daisy S. Faris and Miss Vester A. Charlton.
The bride and groom were met at the altar rail by Rev. A. S. Dechant of Ablene, who held in his hand the marriage service book of the Reformed church, whote cover and gold letters, from which he read the beautiful and impressive marriage rites of his denomi-nation while the entire audience stood.

When Mr. Griffith had slipped the ring on the finger of his fair bride Mr. Dechant pronounced them husband and wife, which was the signal for a show-er of beautiful flowers from a green ball that was suspended over their heads. The bride were a beautiful trosseau and her bridesmalds were also attired

The chancel of the church was beautifully decorated with potted plants, plished vocalists in the city and is quite ferns and flowers, and presented a very pretty appearance.

After the ceremony the nuptial party frove to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ar-thur Eggleston, parents of the bride, where a reception was tendered the immediate friends and a dainty lunch-

At 9 o'clock the bride and groom took friends. At 9 o'clock the bride and groom took the Missouri Pacific train for Omaha on their honeymoon, from which point they will return on Christmas morning. They were accompanied to the depot by a score of friends who, in token of their well wishes, deluged the happy pair with a shower of rice.

The newly wedded couple were the eccipents of a great many pretty and valuable presents not only in the line of art but also in something more necessary for the duties of housekeeping.

The most striking thing about the event, apart from the maling of such bright young lives, was the beauty and mpressiveness of the ceremony. Dechant, the officiating clergyman, was a school and college chum of Mr. Griffith and being a gentleman with a very affectionate nature for his friend, he read the services and addressed the young couple in a manner that was

Mr. Griffith is the youngest man in the ministry in Wichita and is one of the most popular among all classes. He is broad, liberal and Christian and has the respect of every one who knows him. He succeeded Mr. Love as pasfor of the Reformed church and since he took charge of it he has not only made it financially stronger but stronger in membership as well. Before entering the ministry he was a journalist in New York City, from which he brought the reportorial knowledge and experience of the world and which ad-ded to his fitness and power as a min-ister and teacher. He is a scholarly young gentleman and is bound to be-come very successful in life.

"Girard by his depredations in Kan-sas, became notorious as a postoffice robber. He successfully looted the postoffices of Pittsburg and Coffeyville in 1891, and was indicted for these robberies. He was arrested June 11 at Wichita. He furnished bond in the sum of $1,500, which he forfeited, leaving Kanasa at the first opportunity.He bobbed up in various parts of the country always evading capture, and finally performed the job at Eureka. Then the United States authorities began trailing him earnestly as his operation were becoming quite extensive. He was located in Brooklyn, N. Y., in March, of this year, and was in com-pany with another well known burg-lar when taken. On May 8, while heing transferred to Fort Smith from New York, he effected his escape in a most daring manner. One of the marshals and Girard were handcuffed together in the usual manner, and while in the In Wool and Clohair, sleeper, Girard, whose hands and wrists are very slender, slipped the handcuffs and rolled out of the window of the berth. The train was in motion at the time and was near Salamanca, N. In Tweeds, Boucles Y. Then the government deemed his capture so important that a reward was offered of $000 for his arrest. He was next taken at Louisville, Ky. last July, and was transferred to Fort Smith.

Sentence has not been pronounced as yet. Postoffice Inspector Johnston yesterday afternoon received a tele-gram notifying him of the conviction of Girard."
